Hi, I'm Finlay Smith, and I'm 2 years into my 3 year long computer science degree at Lancaster university. I have Extensive experience in programming, and Have completed 3 A Levels, all A, in maths, physics, and computer science.

I Have been developing in java for about 5 years at this point, and have experience in a plethora of other languages too, such as C/C++, python and also a little javascript.

I also have a deep interest in learning about new things, and have set up my own fully self-hosted web server for file sharing and a personal website from my home network, a personal project of mine.
